

Potpourri – June 2025

“Walking into a classroom was like walking out of prison” - Prison education programmes transforming communities

Prison population is on the rise across the world. While some governments claim that incarceration is the most effective tool to tackle crime, analysts say imprisonment alone only feeds the cycle of violence and that education helps transform societies for the better. Follow the link to read of a groundbreaking project, the CUD, the first higher education programme in a prison in Argentina, and one of the first in Latin America.

In English: <https://invisibles.info/en/inside-prison-education-programmes/>

En Español: <https://invisibles.info/entrar-en-un-aula-era-como-salir-de-la-carcel/>

Language in the French reintegration programme

«We need to open the door to alternative methods». Thibaut Caudal completed a five-year course in Product Design at ENSAAMA. He dedicated the last two years of his studies to his thesis on the meaning of custodial sentences and reintegration. This research led him to design a method for teaching French to people in prison at La Santé in Paris. Read this inspiring testimony!

En Français:

<https://www.prison-insider.com/articles/france-s-inscrire-dans-le-parcours-de-reinsertion>

En Español:

<https://www.prison-insider.com/es/articles/france-s-inscrire-dans-le-parcours-de-reinsertion>

In English:

<https://www.prison-insider.com/en/articles/france-s-inscrire-dans-le-parcours-de-reinsertion>

Newsletter of the Portuguese branch of the EPEA

Read the latest newsletter of the Portuguese branch of the EPEA with articles in English on Prison Education in Türkiye and the European Dissemination Platform for Education in Prison.

Link:

https://www.apenp.pt/images/Docs/MAGAZINE_Mar25/APEnP%20Magazine%20\(Mar'25\).pdf.pdf)